DETAILED ACTIONDouble Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-15 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-13 of U.S. Patent No. 6,661,922 (Boettcher et al) in view of Vaidyanathan (6,641,287). Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because of the reasons as follows; Most of the limitations of claims 1 and 8 of the instant application are set forth in claims 1 and 7 of Boettcher. Each of the limitations in of dependent claims 2-7 and 9-15 of the instant application is also defined by dependent claims 2-6 and 8-13 of Boettcher. Regarding claims 1-13 of Boettcher's patent discloses similar limitations of the claims of the instant application 1-15. However, Boettcher's patent does not clearly disclose determining bin width. However, Vaidyanathan discloses bin width (note col. 9 lines 60-69). Boettcher and Vaidyanathan are combinable because they are from same field of endeavor multidimensional space. At the time of the invention, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to include bin width in the system of Boettcher as evidenced by Vaidyanathan. The suggestion/motivation would have been proper data established for quantization (note Vaidyanathan note col. 9 lines 50-60). Therefore, it would have been obvious to combine Boettcher with Vaidyanathan to obtain the invention as specified in the instant application.

3. Claims 15-23 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 7-13 of U.S. Patent No. 6,661,922). Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claims of instant application is broader than Boettcher's patent, thus claims are fully disclosed.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claim 24 is allowed.

5. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance for claim 24. The prior art fails to disclose algorithm steps for searching when no candidate points are identified.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
